Spring 2015 Withdrawal Deadline: April 20th

Withdrawing from a Dual Credit course is a two-step process:
The student:
1) meets with the high school counselor to complete the high school course withdrawal and;
2) meets with the ACC advisor to complete the college course withdrawal.

Before you consider withdrawing ask yourself the following questions, because your Dual Credit Advisor will be asking you as well:
1) Have I met with my professor to discuss my current grade and my challenges with the class?
2) Have I attended any tutorials that have been offered? Or participated in any study groups to help me study?
3) Do I turn in assignments on time? Do I show up prepared for class? Do I participate in class?
4) Am I actually making time to study for my courses or am I cramming? Is there a better way to prepare for exams?
5) Am I giving up too soon? Am I actually failing? Can I mathematically still be successful in the course?

While W’s on your ACC transcript will not count against the 6 withdrawal rule while you are in high school, it is still not wise to have a lot of W’s (withdrawals) on your college transcript. In addition, at this point you will not receive a refund for the course. If you still have a chance to be successful, don’t give up! Buckle down and stick with it!

WARNING!
Withdrawing from Dual Credit courses may affect high school graduation. Students who wish to withdraw from courses taken on the Alvin Community College campus must meet with an ACC Advisor to officially withdraw. A student who does not officially withdraw will be considered enrolled which will result in receiving a failing grade in the course; the failing grade then becomes part of the official college transcript.

You are also invited to attend a Financial Aid FAST TRACK: http://www.alvincollege.edu/Portals/0/userfiles/documents/Dual%20Credit%20Team/Fast%20Track%20Financial%20Aid%20flyer.pdf
