

Poetry & Solo Performance Workshop

Thursday, March 21 - Saturday, March 23
1 - 7 p.m. | Alvin Community College Theatre

ACC Drama is hosting guest artist Na'Tosha De'Von for a workshop on poetry and solo performance. Join us for a three-day workshop culminating in presentations from workshop participants and an invitation-only staged reading of Na'Tosha De'Von's one person show "Ain't I A Woman."

Information

drama@alvincollege.edu
281.756.3607

Registration

acctheatre.ludus.com
Limited space available.

Na'Tosha De'Von, was born in Chicago IL, and raised in Mississippi. She believes that the premise of her art is to expose and heal. Through her poetry she has worked with prominent figures fighting for social injustice and human rights including: Dr. Cornell West, Danny Glover, Ilyasah Shabazz, Myrlie Evers, and Common. Na'Tosha has worked extensively with theatre companies both Regional and Non-Regional focusing on both classical and non-classical text. Na'Tosha is a casting assistant for Actors Casting Agency (ACA) in Arkansas. She is a published poet, with works in notable literary sites including Literary Sanctuary. With her art, Na'Tosha desires to inspire and mentor younger artists.